physicians are unable to offer any expianation whatever as to the manner in which it reaches the spinal membrane.

As to the necessity of strict quarantine regulations, physicians are by no means all of the same mind. One prominent doctor said yesterday that in his opinion every case of meningitis should be sent to the pest house forthwith and kept there for the customary twenty-one days, after every trace of the disease had vanished. The consensus of opinion appears to be, however, in effect that only the most severe cases should be held subject to the full legal quarantine regulations, and that in the great majority the disto the full legal quarantine regulations, and that in the great majority the disease was no more contagious than pneumonia or typhoid fever. In view of the number of recent deaths, however, and the uneasy state of the public mind, it has been deemed advisable to treat all cases alike, and give due warning to the public of the presence of the infection in every house where a case is reported.

In addition to the number of deaths which have already taken place there are upwards of a dozen cases in the city at this time. Some few of these are in the hospitals, but the majority have not been removed from their homes. Quarantine regulations will be established at these homes at once.

WILL FORM LABEL LEAGUE

Union Men to Be Induced to Purchase Union Made Goods Only.

Because it has been discovered that union men in Salt Lake have not been making demands for union made goods, the local labor organization has decided to form a Union Label league, similar to that existing in most of the large cities of the country. The league will have for its object the extension of the sale of all goods bearing the union label and home-made products will always be given the preference. The first meeting of the league will take place in Federation hall Feb. 25, and delegates from every labor organization in the city will attend. The following committee has been named to push the work: William Hesener, cigarmakers; W. 14. Barnes, retail clerks; R. E. Currie, carpenters; Joseph Logan, bartenders; H. R. Russell, printers; J. Ford, barbers; H. W. Willis, ironworkers. making demands for union made goods,

Margaret Cross Passes Away on Los Angeles Limited.

Margaret Cross, the 3-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Cross, died yesterday morning on the Los Angeles limited, just before the train reached Salt Lake. The little tot had been ill for the past ten weeks, and in the hope of benefitting her health, her mother had taken her to the seaside. All that medical skill could do was of no avail, however, and when it was seen that there was no change the young mother decided to bring her baby home. Just before reaching here the little one passed away.

The funeral will be held today at 2:30 from the home at 66 Thirteenth East street. Mrs. Cross was Miss Louise Nelden, the daughter of Mrs. S. O. S. Nelden.

Yesterday's Downpour Played Havoc With Streets.

More rain, and possibly snow, is the forecast for today. The ground hog did not see his shadow yesterday and if tradition makes good we are promised an early spring.

The rains yesterday played havoc with the streets in the lower sections of the city. At various periods during the evening hours the streets running down from the north and east benches resembled rivers. Sewers were clogged and drain pipes were rendered useless.

Cars met with delay and excavation work suffered seriously from the rains. Trenches were filled and caved in, and in places where banks of dirt had been thrown up the rains tore them to pieces and swept the dirt down the streets or back into the trenches.

MINES—EGGS

MINES .- The greatest factor in Salt Lake City's present prosperity is mining. The industry should be encouraged in every way. There are great profits to be made in it. However, we who live in a mining country understand thoroughly the risk which is attached to mining.

EGGS .- "Don't put all your eggs into one basket." MORAL.—Without wishing to say anything to discourage investment in mining, we suggest that you will be acting wisely if you do not put all your eggs in the mining basket. When you have a little money to invest, put some of it in real estate. When you take a profit on a mining deal, invest some of your profits in real estate. Then if the next mining deal goes wrong, you will have your real estate, paying you good interest and a profit. Samuel Newhouse is following this policy. He is a far-seeing man, and he is putting about $6,000,000 into Salt Lake real estate. We can show you many opportunities for safe investments with big profits in Salt Lake realty. If your limit is $100 or $1,000,000, see us, and we can
